To assist in the transition to e-filing, the Office of the Clerk of the Superior Court has prepared instruction and training concerning the e-filing system. All attorneys of record in this case are strongly encouraged to study this material before the mandatory e-filing date. The web site address for training materials is: <http://eventures.clerkofcourt.maricopa.gov/training.asp>. The Clerk's Office shall be available for instruction and training as needed.

The e-filing system web site address is <https://efiling.clerkofcourt.maricopa.gov>. The site contains supplemental training and other reference materials, including contact names and phone numbers, to assist with any questions.

Upon the mandatory e-filing date, all attorneys of record shall e-file all pleadings in accordance with the guidelines set forth in Administrative Order 2005-091. Self-represented parties or pro per litigants and other case participants like moderators, arbitrators, and special discovery masters are strongly encouraged to e-file all pleadings. If a self-represented party or other case participant chooses to file his or her pleading in paper, then he or she shall include a notation under the civil case number, on the first page of the pleading, notifying the court that this is an "E-FILE CASE".

The e-filing system can be accessed from any computer that has an internet connection. Free internet access terminals are available in the Superior Court Law Library and other public locations such as most public libraries.

Where filing fees may incur on an electronic filing, the filing party will be billed by the Billing Unit of the Clerk of the Superior Court.

E-filed Orders from the Court will be distributed to attorneys in the same manner each attorney has elected to receive minute entries from the Court. Attorneys may enroll with the Clerk of the Court to receive their minute entries electronically via e-mail by accessing the Minute Entry Distribution Agreement form at: <http://www.clerkofcourt.maricopa.gov/forms.asp>.

Motion Practice: The movant determines the caption of the filing and all captions on subsequent related filings shall bear the same designation. For example, the filing of a motion captioned "Defendant's Motion for Summary Judgment on Negligence" shall result in any subsequent related filings referring to that title in the caption: "Plaintiff's Response to Defendant's Motion for Summary Judgment on Negligence." No response to a motion shall contain a separate motion, except a cross-motion bearing the same designation.
